David's practice focuses on complex commercial litigation with experience in finance, banking, bankruptcy, and RMBS litigation. He received his J.D. from the University of Pennsylvania Law School where he served as Associate Editor of the University of Pennsylvania Journal of Law and Public Affairs. David finished his joint degree at Penn by earning a Master of Science degree in Social Policy.

David maintains an active pro bono practice with experience assisting clients with prisoner rights litigation, immigration asylum proceedings, and small business legal consulting. He also volunteers as a mentor at Hire Heroes USA and as an alumni mentor at the UCLA Alumni Association.

He clerked for Judge Jerome A. Holmes in the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Tenth Circuit, Judge Drew B. Tipton in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Texas, and Judge Janis Graham Jack in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Texas.

While clerking, David was chosen to be a participant of the Georgetown Center for the Constitution's Originalism Summer Seminar held in May 2021, the Federalist Society's James Kent Summer Academy held in August 2021, and the Heritage Foundation's Clerkship Training Academy in March 2022.

Prior to joining the firm, David practiced with Mayer Brown LLP in New York.

Experience

- Global Tubing v. Tenaris Coiled Tubes. Obtained a complete defense victory in connection with seeking a declaratory judgment that Global Tubing's quench-and-tempered coiled tubing products – key to its business – did not infringe three Tenaris patents. Over the six-year dispute, we defeated several motions to dismiss, obtained a discovery ruling that used the crime-fraud exception to order Tenaris to produce attorney-client communications related to a key prior art document, and an opinion sanctioning Tenaris for violating the protective in prosecuting follow-on patents. The district court granted our client's motion for summary judgment and found all the patents unenforceable due to Tenaris's fraud on the Patent Office.
